

McQUAID JESUIT

Ladies and Gentlemen,

February, 2011

It is with great confidence that I recommend Dr. David Kramer for a position in your school. David demonstrates the kind of professionalism that is needed to educate the youth of today. He is thoughtful, considerate, well prepared and tireless in his work ethic.

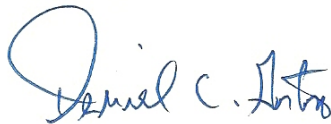

David and I worked very closely for seven weeks at McQuaid Jesuit. In that time his attention to detail and pursuit of knowledge was admirable. David showed concern for the well being of students while relaying material in a studious and efficient manner. He was able to appeal to several styles of learning and maintain discipline in the classroom which is one of the hallmarks of a Jesuit school. David challenged students to strive for excellence and was able to provide specific insight into ideas so that students were able to achieve at the highest level.

David's background in the academic world is an asset to both students and colleagues. In the classroom he is able to challenge and model for students the best practices for the pursuit of knowledge. Students embraced such practices and were able to accomplish projects while gaining an understanding of specific material. For colleagues, David showed an openness to share his ideas and insights for academia while still maintaining and understanding the sanctity of time honored traditions.

David's tireless work at his preparation is exemplary. He is able to accomplish all tasks in a timely fashion and his lessons are well thought out and executed well within the boundaries of time in a given class period. David was able to maintain order within the frenetic pace that is a school community.

David will be a tremendous asset to your school. The reward will be given to students and all of his colleagues as he becomes an integral part of your community. I look forward to the day that David becomes one of my colleagues in teaching.

Sincerely,

Daniel C. Gorton
