SAVE THE MEMORIAL

History: The Deconstruction of the Vietnam Memorial in Highland Park May, 2012

In 1987, the 501(c)3 not-for-profit entity called The Greater Rochester Vietnam Veterans Memorial Corporation, Inc. was created to build a Vietnam Veterans Memorial for the 280 men who died in Vietnam from Monroe County and the five contiguous counties (Genesee, Orleans, Ontario, Wayne, and Livingston). The purpose of the corporation was to identify land, design the Memorial, raise funds, complete construction of the Memorial, and turn the Memorial over to Monroe County as part of the Monroe County parks system to maintain the Memorial in its completed state in perpetuity. Board members consisted of veteran and non-veterans alike, as the Memorial was to benefit all citizens, veterans and non-veterans, in the Greater Rochester area. The site of the Memorial was identified in Highland Park South, and thousands of people spent almost two decades to complete the Memorial in November 2001. Over $1.5 million was raised, and the Memorial was built with all volunteers and no paid staff. While the dedication of the Memorial transpired when the Memorial was approximately 80 percent complete on September 8, 1996, the actual completion of multiple components of the Memorial did not occur until November 2001. The Memorial and the land were then turned back over to Monroe County with a commitment from the County for land maintenance and repair.

On September 9, 2006, there was a 10-year anniversary of the dedication celebration at the Vietnam Veterans Memorial. The GRVVMC Board had completed its work, and the Memorial stood as an outstanding tribute to the 280 men killed and the citizens of the Greater Rochester community.

In September 2006, the minutes of the Board meeting read that the last portion of the Memorial's Timeline was being removed for repair. Almost six years later, even though a $50K grant was available to complete the repair, it has not been done. In the fall 2010, VVA Chapter 20 donated a significant amount of money to the endowment fund for the Memorial managed by Monroe County Parks. It was indicated that the money was to ensure that the Memorial would remain intact as it was on the dedication date on September 8, 1996. In an article in the Democrat and Chronicle on December 16, 1996, the community was made aware that the Memorial was incomplete and there was a need for $100K to complete the Memorial. J. Max Lill and Barry Culhane personally borrowed $100K from Chase Bank so that construction could continue. By the time of completion, $100K was raised from donors committed to completion of all aspects of the Memorial, including the Timeline. It is now apparent that Monroe County and the GRVVMC Board have no intention of repairing and restoring the Timeline which is a significant element of the educational component of the Memorial whose theme is "To Commemorate, To Educate, To Heal." Unfortunately, most people in our community do not realize that this degradation and deconstruction of the Memorial has begun. The remaining three GRVVMC Executive Committee Board members (President and Chair, Treasurer and Secretary - with 17 and 19 years of service each on the GRVVMC Board) are abhorred, and have never heard of other communities allowing the desecration of such a beautiful memorial. If this decision was recommended by the current GRVVMC Board, they have abrogated their responsibilities, and it is essential to restore the memorial to its completed state. Eliminate the GRVVMC Board and revoke their 501(c) 3 status and pass a law through the Monroe County Legislature to maintain and protect the Vietnam Veterans Memorial as completed in perpetuity. The Timeline begins in 300 BC, with the formation of Indochina, and moves quickly through the centuries, with a focus on the 1960s and 1970s, as well as the historical and cultural events after the withdrawal of troops from Vietnam through the dedication of the memorial. The following is a copy of the December 16, 1996 D&C article confirming the Memorial was incomplete, and we needed to raise a final $100,000. Most important: the information that is engraved on the last 19 pieces of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial, including a description of the September 8, 1996 and a follow up note about 9/11/01. These pieces are now missing in action and need to be restored as soon as possible.

Vietnam shrine needs funds

Although Rochester's Vietnam Veterans Memorial was formally unveiled three months ago, organizers say the monument is not completed and about $100,000 is needed to finish the job.

Culhane

Donations have slowed to a trickle since the sculpture in Highland Park was dedicated in September, said

D. & C. DEC 16 1995 Organizers are about $100,000 short

Barry Culhane, chairman of the board of directors for the Vietnam Veterans Memorial of Greater Rochester.

The $1.1 million raised to pay for the memorial is not enough to finish the job and more work still needs to be done: The monument's historical timeline—to be etched in 520 feet of black granite—is only two-thirds complete; a sprinkler system to water foliage at the monument must be installed; a computerized touch-screen learning center donated by Frontier Corp. must be given a setting at the shrine.

So, with funds depleted, the call is going out again for donations to support a memorial for 280 Monroe County-area residents killed in the war.

Culhane has asked the United Way of Greater Rochester to remind people that United Way donations can be steered to the monument. Organizers have also solicited the Monroe County Legislature and last week county lawmakers approved a $10,000 grant.

"We have to get the word out," Culhane said. "People think that this is all done, but we have a ways to go yet."

The monument's main focus is a walkway lined with 280 markers, called bollards; one for each of the Rochester-area men who perished in the war.

The shrine not only commemorates but educates, said Culhane, a Rochester Institute of Technology administrator, who served as a medic stateside during the conflict.

The incomplete stone timeline gives a history of the Vietnamese people that dates back to 300 B.C. and continues to the present day, Culhane said. It also marks significant milestones that occurred during the war years. "The first priority is to get more money to finish the timeline," Culhane said.

But the need for another $100,000—which would bring the memorial's cost to $1.2 million—also goes beyond immediate work to finish the shrine. Organizers also want to start what will eventually be a $50,000 endowment to maintain and repair the memorial in future years.

Organizers talk proudly about avoiding, in large part, public money to pay for the memorial.

The Monroe County Legislature

did donate park land for the shrine in 1990 and then gave the effort $10,000 in 1995. But most of the $1.1 million previously raised came from private donations.

Culhane said that in this stretch drive to complete the memorial, organizers have no choice but to ask for some help from the government.

Monroe County Legislature President John Auberger, R-Greece, said county lawmakers jumped at the chance last week to give the memorial another $10,000, which came out of the county budget's contingency fund. "We were aware more funding was needed, that it wasn't complete," he said.

Organizers are also expecting $100,000 in funding help from New York state, although that money is being earmarked to repay a personal loan that Culhane and J. Max Lill, vice-chairman of the memorial effort, took out to help meet the original $1.1 million goal.

"We are very personally committed to this," said Culhane, explaining why they applied for the loan. "We are aware that it could have been one of us with a name on one of those bollards." □

April 17, 1975

The Lon Nol Cambodian government surrenders to the Khmer Rouge, ending 5 years of war. The People's Assembly (Khmer Rouge) headed by Pol Pot, will cause 2 to 4 million brutal deaths over the next three years.

April 25, 1975

President Thieu resigns and transfers authority to Vice-President Tran Van Huong before any of the several plots against him can be implemented. Thieu flees Saigon. President Ford says the war is finished. South Vietnam's Vice President Tran Van Huong transfers authority as chief of state to General Duong Van Minh.

April 29, 1975

The NVA attack on Saigon begins. President Ford orders emergency evacuation of all Americans left in South Vietnam. The President ordered the airlift that brought 237,000 Vietnamese refugees to the US as communists closed in on Saigon. The US Navy begins Operation Frequent Wind, the evacuation of US personnel and selected South Vietnamese people from Vietnam. Option IV, the largest helicopter evacuation on record, begins removing the last Americans from Saigon. In 19 hours, 81 helicopters carry more than 1000 Americans and nearly 6000 Vietnamese to aircraft carriers riding offshore. Corporal Charles McMahon, Jr. and Lance Corporal Darwin Judge, both US Marines, are the last two Americans to be killed in the Vietnam War.

April 30, 1975

By dawn, Communist forces are moving into Saigon. Ambassador Martin leaves Saigon. At 7:52 am the last U.S. Marine leaves the U.S. Embassy in Saigon. "Option IV" is completed.

Shortly after noon, the Vietcong flag was raised over the presidential palace in Saigon. Duong Van Minh, President of South Vietnam for only days, surrendered unconditionally to the Communists. Saigon is renamed Ho Chi Minh City.

Despite signing the Paris ceasefire 2 years ago, the Saigon government had continued its efforts to eliminate Communist power in its territory and the North Vietnamese continued to try to unify Vietnam under their rule. In 1975, the last remaining troops literally fought for space on helicopters leaving Saigon, while unfortunately, the horrors of the war for countless thousands of Vietnamese and Vietnam Veterans had only begun. For many, their physical and psychological pain, and its impact on their lives and those of their friends and loved ones, continued for decades. Those without limbs, those with shrapnel forever embedded in their bodies, and those afflicted with the insidious after effects of Agent Orange, or psychological damage, continued to suffer and die. The immeasurable effects of Post Traumatic Syndrome and the loss of peace of mind haunted many veterans. There were many suicides among Vietnam Veterans after the war. Also commemorated here are the Rochester area Vietnam Veterans whose names do not appear among the fallen or missing in battle, but whose lives were taken nonetheless by a war whose consequences seemed never to end.

"Never Again Should One Generation of Veterans Forget Another."

(motto of the Vietnam Veterans of America)

(Geoffrey C. Hosmer, 1995)

"My clothes were hopelessly out of style. My hair was unfashionably short. They asked if I had any "management experience." I had been a platoon sergeant in Vietnam in charge of forty-three Americans and numerous Thais. It counted for nothing, in fact, it counted against me. I might just as well have arrived at the interview dressed in jungle fatigues and carrying an M-16. No one knew what to say to a Vietnam Veteran, and no one wanted to meet one at the water cooler.”

John Ketwig, A Hard Rain Fell

Because of the negative reaction by many Americans, Vietnam Veterans chose to remain quiet about their service, keeping their Vietnam experience in their personal closets.

all of our citizens affected by Vietnam. To Commemorate those who served their country and those who died.
To Educate future generations about this important and controversial time in our history ...and to Heal the heartaches of decades. Military men and women went to Vietnam to fight an unpopular war to return, often alone, to fight a second war at home, choosing the silence of the maligned and misunderstood. Many veterans buried their rage, guilt, horror, and sadness along with their great sense of pride for doing their best. All sacrificed something of themselves. Most went on with their lives as productive Americans. Those who never served, but could have, remember the time well.
